NAV 2-Controlware™ Field Security

Our plug & play Field Security module enables you to implement field and record security in Microsoft Dynamics® NAV. With this module the data owners are able to delegate the responsibility for parts of their datasets to other users. The access of these users is easily restricted to only some fields or a set of records in a table. Until now, this could only be realized with expensive customizations.

The finishing touch for authorizations

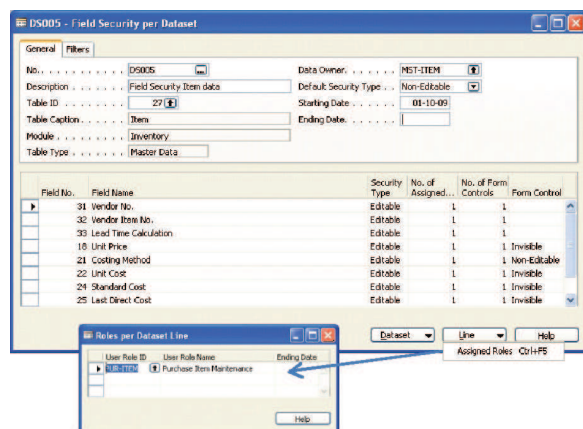

With the standard available application controls data owners are not able to bear their responsibility. Often, other users need access to some fields or sets of records of the same data. The Field Security module gives you a powerful engine for strengthening the application controls and is implemented on top of the standard table security.

Confidentiality

In many environments users need to be restricted from reading parts of the data, e.g. prices on orders or G/L accounts. The Field Security module enables you to restrict users from reading data by hiding fields or sets of records.

Managed by Data owners

Data owners are mostly responsible for authorizing or restricting other users for their dataset. In the Field Security module we use standard Dynamics NAV roles to grant or restrict access to users. In the module the philosophy is embedded that data owners are able to implement the security themselves. The field and record security is easy to maintain. You can choose between: “modify all fields except” or “modify no fields except”

Fully integrated

All functions of the module are integrated in Dynamics NAV and work with version 3.60 and higher. The module requires the Change Log granule, can be implemented with or without customizations, and is built with the standard user-friendly interface of Dynamics NAV.

Monitoring the quality of authorizations

In order to simplify the maintenance and monitor the quality of the authorizations, you can extend this module with our Authorization Setup and Monitoring modules.

The solution to enhance your internal control

Many companies using Dynamics NAV already benefit from NAV 2-Controlware™ Field Security. Without any doubt, the module saves you time and money and enables you to implement field and record security in Dynamics NAV. More information? Do not hesitate to contact us!
